SHORT TERM INTERNATIONAL PROGRAMMES

We create highly specialised short term programmes for universities and organisations from across the globe.

The International Academic Programmes Office at University of Cape Town (UCT) offers the added perk of access to the African context through the celebrated international destination city of Cape Town. Short Term International Programmes (STIP) provides specialised South African and global perspectives on pertinent and engaging themes, drawing on the vast academic competencies within UCT.

We welcome you to experience a dynamic and interactive short term programme in a spectacular setting. Programmes, on average, range from two to six weeks in duration. The programmes offered are not credit bearing, however a certificate may be awarded. Programmes are designed for groups of ten or more.

Education destination

The International Academic Programmes Office at the University of Cape Town creates and facilitates short term educational programmes for international institutions.

Delegates are given an invaluable opportunity to study, research and explore South Africa whilst participating in an educational programme.

Our services include:

- » Standardised programmes in specialised disciplines.
- » Facilitating customised programmes and curriculum design (minimum of ten participants).
- » Sourcing academic experts in topical areas
- » Programme implementation and delivery including community organisation site visits.
- » Arranging teaching venues, accommodation, access to campus facilities.
- » Highly specialised excursions to heritage and popular sites in Cape Town and other locations in South Africa.
- » Service learning opportunities.
- » Professional services to island programmes.

Our current clients and partners include:

- » Academic partners from the global north.
- » Students fulfilling an accreditation requirement (awarded by their home institution).
- » Academic partners from the rest of Africa in relevant disciplines.
- » High level international organisations.
- » Corporate and executive programmes.
- » Government delegates.
- » Island programmes.
