The information in this presentation is not legal advice and is current as of May 11, 2021.
Study Permit Application: Gather your required documents

Mandatory Supporting Documents – supporting documents must be in English

- Valid passport
  - Check validity date
- Letter of Acceptance
  - Verify LOA includes tuition, start date, DLI#, etc
  - Proof that you have accepted your offer / paid deposit (recommended)
- Proof of financial ability
- Medical exam, if applicable
  - Recommended to complete medical exam before applying
- Visa photo
- Study plan/Letter of explanation

This presentation will spend more time focused on the highlighted boxes.

Important

Check your local visa-office instructions for the country where you are applying and include all additional mandatory documents.
Letter of acceptance

- You can find this in MyFile. Letters of acceptance are only issued once.

- What if my letter of acceptance is conditional?
  - You can and should still apply for a study permit, as ‘full acceptance’ letters are not generally issued
  - In your letter of explanation, you should explain how you will clear the conditions & provide any relevant supporting documents (e.g. grade reports/marksheets provided to date)
  - Note: The Student Direct Stream may require an unconditional letter of acceptance. In this case, may need to apply through the regular stream.
Letter of explanation / Study Plan

Establish that you are a genuine student

A study plan is like a cover letter (1-2 pages)* for your application and helps to establish that your true intention is to seek a permit to study in Canada and not for some other reason.

Common questions to establish that you are a genuine student:

- Why do you want to study in York University (speak in specific, factual and practical terms)
- Why this step in your education journey is logical/beneficial
- Why can’t you do it in your home country or neighbouring countries (be specific)
- How your studies will help your employment prospects (be specific, provide proof where possible; a letter from an employer who may hire you when you return could be very helpful, for example)

*Check your local visa office requirements for any specific instructions regarding the study plan, such as the questions to ensure you address or a page/word limit.
Letter of explanation / Study Plan
Demonstrate that you have sufficient ties to your home country/residence

A study permit is an application for temporary residence, i.e. an officer must be convinced that you will leave Canada once you complete your studies / at the end of your authorized stay.

An IRCC officer has a wide range of decision making power to decide what will be factored into this analysis.

Ties to home country means explaining various aspects of your life that bind you to your home country: Why would you want to or need to return home after your stay in Canada?

Examples of ties to your home country:
- Family, family obligations and social relationships (a sworn affidavit can help)
- Documentation of an existing business or employment that you will return to
- Documentation of career potential including statistics from a reputable source, such as your government, showing that people with your skills are in high demand; or a letter from a potential employer.
- Property / assets
- Bonds paid to your government or scholarship funders to guarantee your return
Proof of means of financial support

- IRCC wants to see that you have strong proof of financial support.
- Must show sufficient (liquid) funds for your tuition, living costs & travel, for your first year of studies.
  - Your letter of acceptance will indicate:
    - Cost of tuition for one year
    - Books/Personal expenses
    - Residence/Meals
    - Health care
  - You should be prepared to demonstrate the ability to fund one full year of tuition and a minimum of $10,000 for your first year of living expenses (additional if accompanying family members)
  - Source of funds must be clear, sufficient and reliable.
    - Eg. If your funds are being provided from a parent or family member, they must provide proof of WHERE the funds are coming from (e.g. if they are working, they should provide an employment letter, if they have a business, they should provide proof of business ownership). Additionally, it is important to provide a letter from the sponsor (preferably notarized) explaining that they will support your studies in Canada.
    - Third party funds (funds from anyone else other than yourself or your parents): not preferred; will be assessed on a case-by-case basis
  - Check your local visa requirement instruction guide for specific financial support documentation that is required.
Recommendation: include a cover letter that lists all of the documents that you are submitting as proof of financial support for your application.

The cover letter should include:

- Your name, your date of birth and UCI number
- The title “Proof of Funds and Financial Support”
- A brief summary confirming that you meet the eligibility requirement for having sufficient funds
  - The funds required for me to study and live in Canada are approximately [insert the amount]. This amount is based on an estimated cost of tuition for one year [insert amount of tuition] as indicated in my letter of acceptance and [xxx amount] for living expenses. Below is a list of documents proving that I have sufficient financial funds to cover these costs.
- A list of the documents you are providing and a brief description:
  - 1. Bank statements from November 2020 – April 2020, of my father, [NAME] (Balance: CAD $XX)....pages 1-10
  - 2. Proof of property ownership for my mother, [NAME].....pages 11-13
  - 4. Proof of funding from York University [eg. graduate student funding/scholarship]....page 17
Do I need to provide proof of paid tuition?

Whether you should provide proof of paying the registration deposit and/or your tuition for the purpose of your study permit application depends on a few factors.

STEP 1
Consult your country-specific visa office requirements and ensure you are following the specific requirements listed there.

STEP 2
For the standard study permit application stream, proof of paid tuition or a registration deposit is not a requirement to submit a complete study permit application UNLESS it is specified in your country-specific visa office instructions. Again, ensure to double check this using the link directly above for your specific country’s requirements.

STEP 3
HOWEVER, proof of paying your registration fee and tuition (partial or full payment) can serve to strengthen your study permit application in the sense that doing so may lend credibility to the fact that you are a genuine student, with genuine intentions to study in Canada. Depending on how much you pay upfront, it can help to demonstrate to IRCC that you have the financial means to afford your education and living expenses in Canada.

NOTE: IRCC officers have a wide range of decision-making power when evaluating a study permit application and proving financial sufficiency is one part of a larger assessment made by the IRCC officer to determine whether you meet the requirements to study in Canada.

STEP 4
If you wish to pay deposit/tuition fees as evidence to support your study permit application, use this link to make a deposit using one of the two methods listed and a payment receipt will be added in your MyFile in 4-5 working days after the payment is received. You can deposit any amount and it will be placed in your student account for now and can be used for fee payment later.
What if I can’t provide a document due to COVID-19?

- If you can’t provide a document due to COVID-19 service disruptions (e.g. medical exam, police certificates), you can still apply. Note, however, that your application will not be processed within the August 6, 2021 deadline – IRCC will process these applications as quickly as possible but there is no guarantee of a decision before the fall semester begins.

- You must include a letter of explanation in place of the document outline why you can’t provide the document.

- You will need to provide all required documents before a final decision on your application can be made.
Student Direct Stream

- SDS is an expedited study permit application process, available to those residing in:
  - India, China, Philippines, Pakistan, Vietnam, Morocco, Senegal

- Processing time = 20 calendar days
  - Expect delays due to COVID

- MUST apply online and include mandatory documents:
  - Letter of Acceptance
  - Upfront medical exam
  - Guaranteed Investment Certificate (GIC) of $10,000 CAD
  - Proof of tuition payment for first year of studies (= 2 terms)
  - IELTS (6+) (*required even if not required for your admission to Schulich)
    - Most recent educational transcripts
    - Study plan
    - Additional documents may also be required based on country of residence

If you do not have all of the mandatory documents, your application cannot be processed under SDS
Nigeria Student Express

Nigeria student express stream (NSE) is very similar to SDS.

- No information about this program available on IRCC’s website.
- We will circulate information sheet prepared by the Nigeria High Commission that explains NSE requirements.
Study Permit Application: How will my application be assessed?

Study Permit Eligibility Requirements:

- Acceptance to a designated learning institution
- Genuine temporary resident
- Financial ability to fund tuition, living expenses, travel costs
- Admissible to Canada
  - No criminality/medical issues/etc

- The visa officer will assess your application based on the documents you provide to substantiate the above
Study Permit Application: Submitting your application

Online application tips

- Merge together and upload all additional documents under “Client Information” (i.e.: cover letter, study plan, etc)
- Use “?” button to view additional document instructions or examples
- Take screen shots during application (once documents uploaded, submission page, “successfully submitted” page)
- Be sure to check your spam/junk mail for correspondence from IRCC, or regularly check your online account
Common Refusal Reasons

1) Unclear and/or insufficient financial documents

2) “Unreasonable studies”

☐ Other reasons:
Your proposed studies are not reasonable in light of one or more of: your qualifications, previous studies, missing marksheets, academic record, level of establishment, language abilities, or your future prospects and plans.

3) “Not satisfied that you would leave Canada at the end of your stay”

☐ You have not satisfied me that you would leave Canada at the end of your stay. In reaching this decision, I considered several factors, including:

☐ travel history
☐ immigration status in country of residence
☐ family ties in Canada and in country of residence
☐ length of proposed stay in Canada
☐ purpose of visit
☐ employment prospects in country of residence
☐ current employment situation
☐ personal assets and financial status.
☐ your history of having contravened the conditions of admission on a previous stay in Canada

The information in this presentation is not legal advice and is current as of May 11, 2021.
Accompanying Family Members

- Family members can apply to accompany you to Canada
  - Includes spouse/common-law partner and dependent children

- Can either apply together or separately after your study permit is approved
  - Recommended to apply simultaneously

- Children intending to study in Canada should apply for a study permit (no letter of acceptance required)
  - If not intending to study, can apply as visitor

- Spouses are eligible to apply for an open work permit, or can apply to enter as visitor

Final Tips

- Put your best foot forward with your first application – ensure you include all mandatory and supporting documents
  - Review visa-office instructions
  - Apply on-time

- Don’t underestimate the importance of this application

- Decisions are up to the discretion of the officer

- Continue to monitor current COVID-19 situation; be aware that processing and decisions may be impacted

- If you receive a request for additional documents, complete IRCC Request Form

- If application is refused, contact me as soon as possible to discuss next steps
