

WE ARE ALL GLOBAL YORK

UNDERGRADUATE SUMMER SCHOOL

Experience a Russell Group university

Our undergraduate programme is open to all students currently undertaking an undergraduate (Bachelors) degree who are ready to get a taste of what it means to study at a top university in the UK.

This two-week summer school is a unique combination of deep engagement with a chosen specialism and great social activities – all in an international community, based on our beautiful parkland campus.

It's just the perfect opportunity to get to know us, our city and our students.

DISCOVER THE CITY OF YORK

Explore our great, historic city

Halfway between London and Edinburgh, in the North of England, York is a contemporary city of contrast. Renowned for its rich history and heritage, York is full of culture. You can still walk around the city on the city walls, and enjoy the spectacular views of York Minster, the majestic cathedral which dominates the city.

York is regularly named one of the best places to live and visit in the UK, and with a population of 200,000, it's big enough to feel lively but small enough to feel like home. Join us to experience it in person.

EXPERIENCE OUR RUSSELL GROUP UNIVERSITY

The University of York is one of the success stories in UK higher education.

Since our foundation in 1963, we have powered our way to a consistently high ranking in the UK and are one of just six post-war universities to have appeared in the world top 100.

University of the Year shortlisted

We're proud to have been shortlisted for two prestigious University of the Year awards:

- Times Higher Education Awards 2021
- The Times and Sunday Times Good University Guide 2022

Top 20 in the UK

- Joint 18th overall in the Guardian Good University Guide 2022
- 19th overall in the Complete University Guide 2023 with nine subjects ranked in the top 10
- 19th in the The Times Good University Guide 2022 with six subjects ranked in the top 10

ACADEMIC PROGRAMME

Subject specific sessions

In the heart of our Undergraduate Summer School sessions are the 16-hour academic options. These are designed and taught by research and teaching staff from relevant departments at the University. Sessions comprise a mixture of lectures, seminars and practicals, with plenty of groupwork and hands-on experience: a true reflection of undergraduate-level study.

Complementary sessions

Complementing the study options are our carefully selected sessions, including a series of keynote lectures, a taster of the York Strengths employability skills programme, and a special block on UK and Europe. There are also two full-day field trips in each two-week module, and plenty of self-study, totalling 100 hours of learning.

CREDITS AND ASSESSMENT

Assessment and certificate

If you successfully complete our programme, you will receive a certificate from the University of York.

For each module, you will have to complete two pieces of work:

- A reflective journal
- A group presentation

Each academic option has 100 hours of study (a combination of input sessions and self-study).

Ensuring Sustainable Futures

Session 1

Department of Environment and Geography

Summary

At the University of York, we consider sustainability to be a key element of our responsibilities and values. We want our students to understand the sustainability challenges our world faces, but more than that, we want our students to drive changes aimed at ensuring future sustainability.

Climate change, habitat destruction and unsustainable resource use are all major challenges to the future stability of our world. But it's not enough to just learn about the challenges. We must focus on the solutions.

In this module, you will learn about current and future sustainability challenges and the ways in which we are trying to solve them through research, education, policies and innovations. As part of our module, you will engage in a number of discussions and practical sessions.

Aims

The aim of this module is to introduce you to the skills, knowledge and tools needed to develop solutions to the world's most pressing sustainability challenges.

In particular, it will:

- provide you with knowledge of sustainability challenges
- introduce you to a solutions-based strategy of evaluating sustainability challenges
- enable you to confidently discuss and propose solutions to sustainability challenges.

Minimum level of English:
IELTS 5 (upper-intermediate)

Introducing the Human Mind

Session 2

Department of Psychology

Summary

This course aims to introduce you to psychology and the scientific exploration of the human mind and behaviour. We will explore important questions relating to how we interact with the world around us and why we behave the way we do.

We will introduce you to this incredibly diverse, rich and fascinating area through a series of interactive sessions and workshops. Specifically, you will learn how the brain works, how our minds develop, and how we socially engage with others.

Aims

In this module, we aim to enhance your understanding of the human mind through three complementary dimensions of psychology:

- the human brain - the neural systems that underpin who we are
- human development - how we mature and grow as individuals
- human social behaviour - how we interact with others.

Minimum level of English:
IELTS 5 (upper-intermediate)

Books and their Makers

Session 2

Department of English and Related Literature

Summary

How are books made? Who decides what gets read, where and when? And what difference does it make to think about the histories, social lives and business of books as well as about their contents?

In this short course, you will discover the extraordinary world of publishing and book-making, drawing on examples from medieval scribes to contemporary digital publishing. You will have the chance to get hands-on with bookmaking in the University's unique Thin Ice Press, and to learn from contemporary editors, publishers and writers as well as leading academic experts.

Aims

The aim of this module is to develop your knowledge and understanding of the techniques and histories of book production, circulation and reading, and of how the business of books shapes the texts we read, and our ways of reading.

In particular, it helps you:

- develop your knowledge and understanding of how books have been made in the past, and how they are made now
- understand how the physical form of books and the business of publishing shapes the literary landscape and the way we read
- develop your skills in literary analysis, and in written and oral communication, with expert guidance.

Minimum level of English:
IELTS 5 (upper-intermediate)

English Language, Academic and Intercultural Skills

Session 1

Session 2

Session 3

Centre for Global Programmes

Summary

English is a global language, and as such, it serves a variety of purposes for people around the world. For some, it's purely functional, for others, it's a gateway to other cultures.

In this module, you will develop your functional English language skills so that you can be a more effective communicator. You will also explore what intercultural communication is and will become better aware of cultural differences. Finally, you will enhance your academic English language skills.

Aims

The aim of this module is to develop your English language, academic and intercultural communication skills.

In particular, it helps you:

- develop your English language skills through a communicative and functional language based approach
- broaden your cultural horizons and enhance your intercultural competence
- enhance your academic English language skills through an integrated skills and context-based approach with a focus on effective communication.

Minimum level of English:
IELTS 4.5 (intermediate)

COLLECTIVE POWER.

FREE TIME ACTIVITIES

Day trips

From great cities to the seaside, you'll get to discover the North of England on two fabulous day trips in two weeks.

Field trips

Once a week, we'll visit places in Yorkshire that are of cultural or scientific interest: these days combine learning and having fun.

Activities

From sports to games, quizzes, sightseeing and shopping, you can take part in exciting free time activities daily, led by York students.

and Intercultural Skills
Centre for Global Programmes

Eligibility

This programme is open to all students currently undertaking an undergraduate (Bachelors) degree, who are ready to get a taste of what it means to study at a top university in the UK.

Applicants must have had their 18th birthday before starting to study on our programme.

We welcome students from all nationalities and backgrounds; however, as we aim to have an international student body on this programme, we can only accept a limited number of participants from any one country.

Academic requirements

Our Undergraduate Summer School has no formal academic requirements, but we will ask you to provide details of your current studies.

If you are not currently studying on an undergraduate (Bachelors) programme, please contact our team to discuss whether our summer school is the right choice for you.

English requirements

The programme is suitable for both native speakers of English and for students who have been learning English as a second/foreign language.

Although there is no formal language requirement, for most modules, we strongly recommend that applicants have a good upper-intermediate level of English (at least around CEFR B2 or Duolingo 75).

For the English Language, Academic and Intercultural Skills module, we recommend an intermediate level of English (at least around CEFR B1 or IELTS 4.5).

Accommodation and catering

If you decide to book accommodation with us, you will be staying in a single room in one of 11 colleges situated on our wonderful parkland campus. Your fellow students will be staying in the same accommodation block, but you'll be able to have privacy in your own room. Rooms have shared bathrooms (the average room:bathroom ratio is 5:1). Your room will have a sink.

You'll have breakfast in one of the campus outlets but will have to arrange your own lunch and dinner. A fully equipped, shared kitchen will be available in your accommodation block.

Welfare and security

Our city and campus are safe, and the University's Security Services are available if you need assistance 24/7.

Our Safeguarding and Welfare Procedures are available online.

Insurance

As part of our programme package, we provide free student travel insurance including additional Covid-19 cover. Full insurance terms and conditions are available on our website.

Programme fees

The tuition fee per two-week session is £1,450. This already includes an exceptional £300 contribution from the University. This fee includes the full teaching and free time provision.

Accommodation is optional; a single room with breakfast and access to a shared kitchen and bathroom costs £550 per two-week session.

Scholarships

We offer five different scholarships:

- York Global Widening Participation Scholarship
- York Refugee and Asylum Seeker Scholarship
- Ukraine Scholarship

The application deadline for scholarships is 3 March 2023.

Assessment and certificate

If you successfully complete our programme, you will receive a certificate from the University of York.

You may be able to receive credits from your home university; however, we cannot guarantee that they will acknowledge your attainment. Please check this with your home institution.

Terms and conditions

When applying to study on this programme, you will have to accept the Terms and Conditions, as set out on our website.

Application

Places on our programme are limited, and are available on a first-come-first-serve basis. We recommend booking early to avoid disappointment.

You can find our application form on our website.
